

finding light in a lost year

Carin Fahr Shulusky

Do you remember where you were when you first heard news of the pandemic? Finding Light in a Lost Year will take you there. Readers can watch it unfold through the eyes of Roni Wright, a successful travel agent with an architect husband and two lively young children. Month by month the story details the real statistics of the pandemic against the affect on the fictional Wright family. As the reality of the pandemic unfurls, Roni's life also unravels. Jobs, school, and social life are put on hold as the worst pandemic in 100 years takes over. Roni and her family are shaken to the core with trials and tragedies but in the midst of it all, they find hope. You will cheer as they work their way out of darkness into a better place.

“Readers will laugh and cry and want to shake a character or two...”

—Debbie Haupt, blogger, The Reading Frenzy

ISBN pbk: 978-1-7362417-2-1

ISBN e-Book: 978-1-7362417-3-8

Fossil Creek Press, St. Louis, MO

6 x 9, $14.95 (paperback)

Family & Relationships / Biographical Fiction

<https://carinshulusky.com/>

“Gives readers a chance to see the difficulties many of us faced during the pandemic and to embrace the surprising gifts as well!”

—Jill Kraft Thompson, award-winning author
Finding Jill: How I Rebuilt My Life After Losing the Five People I Loved Most

Carin Fahr Shulusky is a former advertising executive and founder of the Marketing Alliance in St. Louis Missouri. This is her second book. She is also the author of In the Middle. Carin retired in 2014 to devote more time to writing. Carin lives with her husband, Richard Shulusky. They have two grown children and are the proud grandparents of one terrific granddaughter.

